Skiers Plan For Work On Jumping Hill

2 Committees Will Be Named, To Report April 29

President Adolph Martin was instructed by Placerville Ski Club members at a special meeting Thursday night to name two committees on important club business, who will report with recommendations at a special meeting of the club on April 29.

The two questions upon which committees are to be appointed are jumping hill development and, a proposal to adopt a graduated scale of dues for club membership.

Martin said Friday noon he has not completed the appointment of the

JUNIOR HALL MEET CALLED

Future Of Project To Be Reviewed By Committee

A meeting of the community committee on the Junior Community Hall project has been called by L. J. Anderson, chairman, to be held at the War Veterans' Memorial Building on Monday night at 7:30 o'clock.

Dr. Anderson reports the committee will review the work done on the project up to this time, and also will give consideration to plans looking to an early completion of the building, which is now under construction on the city property on Benham Street.

Immediate needs of the project, Dr. Anderson said, are windows, a kitchen stove and plumbing fixutres.

Discussion will also concern ways and means of further financing for the project, originally budgeted at about $2,500.

Dr. Anderson reports that through the generosity of various firms and individuals, this figure is materially reduced, but that some additional finances will be needed since the contributions totalling approximately $600 to the project are exhausted.

3 COUNTIES TO ASK REFUNDS IN SALE OF BRIDGE

If the state decides to purchase the Carquinez and Antioch bridges, Contra Costa, Solano and Sacramento counties will demand to be compensated for what they consider is their interest in the two bridges.

This was indicated this week when Contra Costa County supervisors, union representatives, officials of the taxpayers' association and county newspapermen met in Martinez. The supervisors have taken a firm position that if the state can buy the two bridges, it can also find money to compensate the counties.

They took the position that Contra Costa and Solano counties have a salable interest in the structures for which they should be compensated as well as bridge company stockholders. As the franchises expire in 1948, at which time the bridges come under ownership of the counties, officials believe that Contra Costa county should receive $600,000 and a like amount should be received by Solano County. Lieutenant Governor Hatfield recently pointed out that if the state purchases the bridges the counties would not receive tax funds which they are now receiving annually from the bridge companies.

It was also brought out at the meeting that should the state acquire the bridges by issuing 20-year revenue bonds, which would be paid off by tolls, approximately $4,500,000 would be taken from gas tax funds for bridge maintenance.

Harold Buhlman, found guilty of speeding in a 25-mile district, was fined $10 by Police Judge Eugene Creed.

Coronation Curiosities

By Harold S. Corbin

UNEASY THE HEAD

Copyright, 1937, United Feature Syndicate, Inc.

All the to-do about the proposed state income for the abdicated Edward of Great Britain recalled that royalty often has been in straitened circumstances. This once led to a notorious deception in connection with the famed St. Edward's crown that will be used at George's coronation.

The massive crown, made for Charles II in 1662 after the original was broken up and sold by order of Cromwell's Parliament, is supposed to resemble the one worn by Edward the Confessor. The bill for this crown and another made at that time came to $160,000, as submitted by the court jeweler, Sir Robert Vyner. Among the jewels in St. Edward's crown was a beautiful aquamarine at the top.

St. Edward's Crown weighs more than seven pounds

But Britain's monarchs of other times often were tempted to convert handy material like that into ready cash. Evidently some of them did succumb to the temptation of St. Edward's crown. Despite reference in old books to that beautiful aquamarine, just before Queen Victoria was crowned the gem was found to be nothing more than a piece of glass.

There was much scurrying hither and yon to learn the culprit. The finger of blame was pointed at James II who, according to ancient records, went traveling in France "with a blue stone in his breeches pocket." If Jamie did it, his defalcation went unknown for nearly 200 years. Court jewelers had to remedy the deceit.

St. Edward's crown weighs nearly seven pounds, because of its encrustation of gems and its heavy framework. Likely enough the cords will stand out in George's neck when it is placed on his head. But it is lifted off almost immediately, to be replaced by the Crown of State, a much lighter affair. The velvet cap within it, originally made large enough to fit a wigged head, has to be altered for each monarch who wears it.

Truce Declared To Permit Of Burials

MADRID (UP)—A truce between loyalist and nationalist forces in the El Pardo sector, just north of Madrid, was put into effect today to enable both sides to bury their dead before continuing with the battle.

It was the first truce requested during the Spanish civil war, army reports said.

Mental Test Due On Rogers Extortioner

CHICAGO (UP) — Federal agents planned a mental examination today for John Buvas, 18, who admitted writting an extortion letter containing a death threat to Ginger Rogers, movie star.

The six-page letter in which he demanded $500 from the actress stated he was "mentally ill and not normal," federal agents reported. W. J. Devereux, assistant in charge of the Chicago Bureau of Investigation, said the youth was a victim of "melancholia."

FORMER LOCAL AGENT PASSES

Cleo G. Parker Rites Will Be Saturday At Sacramento

Cleo G. Parker, former agent in Placerville for Wells, Fargo & Company, died at Sacramento on Thursday.

The funeral services will be at 2:30 o'clock on Saturday afternoon from the Mller & Skelton mortuary chapel, in that city. The Masonic order will have charge.

Mr. Parker followed his father, John P. Parker, in the express company business, and came to Placerville in 1920 as agent here. He remained in this post for about two years following which he left the express company's employe and went to Davenport, Iowa, there graduating from a school in chiropractics.

Returning to Sacramento, he accepted an assignment with the express company as agent at Coalinga, later giving up the post owing to failing health.

He is survived by his wife, who lives at Sacramento, and by his father, who recently retired at Klamath Falls after long service with the express company there.

Mr. Parker was a member of El Dorado Lodge No. 26, F. & A. M., and of St. James Chapter No. 16, R. A. M., both of this city.

WHOA, NELLIE!—By the time southpaw Clyde Shoun sets that right foot back on terra firma, he will have generated enough steam to at least carry the ball to the plate;—and what smoke! The "rooster-in-the-winter-time" stance was snapped at the Chicago Cubs training quarters at Pasadena.

"OUT-DOOR GIRL" CONTEST HELD EXCELLENT TRAINING

Entry From County In 1936 Gives Benefit Of Experience To Candidates In Try-Outs For Selection This Year

If a high school girl is interested in trying to become El Dorado County's entry in the "California Outdoor Girl for 1937" contest at the Salinas rodeo, she shouldn't permit a little natural self-consciousness to discourage her.

This is the substance of a letter to High School Principal B. E. Larson from June Darrington, the county's entry last year. Miss Darrington was graduated at the county high school last June and now is enrolled in a secretarial school at Sacramento.

The county's entry in the contest for this year will be chosen at the May Day picnic. Those who are candidates for the selection thus far are Miss Clara Tubbs and Evelyn Berriman, high school seniors, and Miss Dorothy Morris, a junior.

Ed Bowman, distinguished rodeo performer, who runs a ranch in the Springvale district, has consented to be a member of the judging committee for this event at the May Day picnic this year.

But, here's Miss Darrington's report on last year's event:

"Recently I received a letter from Mr. Case, chairman of the Outdoor Girl Contest, asking me to co-operate with him in getting a representative from my high school to come to Salinas this year.

"There isn't much I can do now that I have graduated and am living down here, but I feel that the least I can do is to write this letter to try to encourage the junior and senior outdoor-minded girls to enter the tryouts.

"There is no reason for any of the girls to be afraid to enter. I know from experience that many will hesitate about entering through self-consciousness of their riding ability, scholastic standings, or their personal beauty. But while a girl may be lacking in one of the requirements, that only counts one-fourth. For example, the girl who won at Salinas last year, didn't win first place in the riding contest. The rates are not given out, but through accident, I learned that the girl who stayed in the same home that I did, was rated highest in horsemanship.

"Facial beauty is not counted, if it was, there would have been a different set of girls at Salinas, for while they were all healthy and wholesome looking, there were many who could not be termed pretty.

"I was really terrified when we were informed of the four different tests we would take, but when they were all over, I realized that it had been grand fun and there was no reason to be afraid. First, we took the horsemanship test. It was very simple. Each girl drew numbers and the one drawing the number "1" was the first to ride. You did not mount in front of the judges, but there were riders to help you on. You walked your horse past the judges and then galloped back, turned and loped to the judges and then reigned the horse to the right and left. It was easy and a lot of jolly fun.

"Then we were taken to the Junior College where we took a written test for scholarship. It consisted of six

139 Ships, 40,000 Men In Maneuvers For Six Weeks

By HENRY WOOD
United Press Staff Correspondent

ABOARD THE U. S. S. PENNSYLVANIA, off Long Beach (UP)—The vanguard of the navy's heavy ships, led by the cruiser Houston, steamed out to sea today for the start of tactical exercises in the Pacific.

As the Houston, flagship of the scouting force, gained speed, the balance of the fighting ships quickly fell into line and departed for the six weeks of maneuvers off the Hawaiian Islands.

Heading the battleship force was the U. S. S. Pennsylvania, Admiral Arthur J. Hepburn's flagship.

Thousands of men, women and children witnessed the departure from the cliffs of Point Firmin, overlooking the harbor, and other vantage points.

Orders called for the fighting ships to draw into a formation of parallel lines when they drew outside the harbors and then head toward Hawaii.

A total of 139 war ships from the combined San Pedro-Long Beach area and from San Diego, to the south, are taking part in the war games. The ships are manned by more than 40,000 officers and enlisted men with 474 airplanes included.

Slow-traveling crafts of the base force, hospital and auxiliary ships and other auxiliaries, steamed off last night to get a head start toward the ocean "battleground" in the vicinity of the Hawaiian Islands.

BERKELEY (UP)—The modern university offers little advantage over the little red school house as regards the distance necessary for pupils to reach it. The University of California has numerous adult students who travel from 5 to 50 miles daily to attend their classes.

PEDESTRIAN HIT, ARRESTED

FITCHBURG, Mass. (UP)—When Elmer Kallinen, 27, struck pedestrian Edward Morley, 36, Morley was arrested on a drunken walking charge.

RAIL STRIKE DUE TONIGHT

two other major rail unions, Brotherhood of Railway Engineers and the Brotherhood of Railway Conductors. The strike was called for 6 p. m. Pacific standard time.

A critical situation developed at Kansas City, where Ford Motor Company workers threatened to strike in retaliation for assaults in two officials of the United Automobile Workers Union.

In New York City, a general strike of marine workers and radio operators of all international mercantile marine vessels was settled through an agreement which permits sailing of the United States liner President Roosevelt, which had been tied up at pier since Wednesday.

BOARD MEETS

WASHINGTON (UP)—The National Mediation Board met today to seek methods of averting the threatened strike of 8500 workers in Southern Pacific Lines.

A high official of the board said that every possible means of settling the walkout, which would disrupt railway labor mediation machinery would be considered.

Members declined to indicate what steps might be taken to deal with the walkout, called for 6 p. m., P. S. T.

President Roosevelt, who earlier in the week appointed a three man board to make a study of the controversy and report to the White House, declined to comment on the threatened strike at his press conference.

SKIERS PLAN JUMPING HILL

committees but hopes to do so in the near future, possibly by Saturday and certainly before Monday.

Leaders of the club have been looking with some satisfaction at a location described as "behind old Twin Bridges" as the site for their new jumping hill.

This site was used for down-hill and slalom races in the tournament held last Sunday. However, the club already has leased a site some distance further east, and whether one site or the other will be selected, or whether an effort will be made to connect the two locations, which are not far removed from each other, will be a part of the committee's work.

The graduated scale of membership fees, perhaps equally important, is intended to enable the Ski Club to draw the support of all who endorse Winter Sports.

OUTDOOR GIRL CONTEST NEAR

question, mostly simple ones. The last one was an essay on the outdoor girl of 100 words. It was easy to write and the whole test just took one-half hour.

"At the Fox Theater, we took the appearance test. The girls just stood on the stage and turned and smiled as you were directed, while the judges rated each girl.

"The last test was the one for personality. Each girl went in turn, alone, on the stage of the theater, and there answered questions asked by Mr. Case, so that the judges could determine something about her personality.

"That was the end of the "work" and just the fun was left. There were dinners, teas, luncheons and a dance for the girls and their chaperons. We were invited to the theater and to the carnival in town then, and on the day that the rodeo opened we rode in the grand parade, and were then free to watch the rodeo the rest of the day.

"After it was all over I was sorry I had wasted so much time worrying about how hard it was going to be, for it wasn't hard at all, and I really had a grand time. I only wish I were going again. One girl was there last year representing San Mateo County for the third year in succession.

"You really have a fine time there and meet some lovely girls. Every one is so friendly that no one could help having a grand time. So I want to urge all the girls who are eligible, to enter the tryouts. I know that the girl who is "Miss El Dorado" at the California rodeo this year, will have as much fun as I did last year, and I hope that she wins the Queenship and the trip to Mexico City.

"Of course, it won't be exactly the same this year, but this will give the girls an idea of what to expect. If any girl has any questions to ask about it, I would be glad to help all I can if she will write to me at 1848 43rd St., Sacramento. Sincerely yours, June Darrington."

Ask the State to Keep Its Word

In accordance with California law, the builders of the Carquinez and Antioch Bridges obtained legal franchises from the County on the left bank of the stream, representing the two counties to be connected.

These county franchises gave us full authority to erect and maintain the two toll bridges until 1948, WHEN THE PROPERTIES AUTOMATICALLY REVERT TO PUBLIC OWNERSHIP.

The State Legislature ratified these franchises four years later... AFTER THE BRIDGES WERE BUILT AND THE ENTIRE COSTS OF THE PIONEER ENTERPRISE WERE KNOWN... and the Governor signed the ratification.

We who invested in these bridges did so with the understanding that California's law was binding and its word was good. But now it is proposed to ignore the State's solemn pledge, take over the bridges and maintain them out of the gasoline tax funds paid by all the people... instead of from tolls paid by the users, as the franchises provided.

We urge those who believe in the sanctity of contracts and those who oppose the needless diversion of gasoline tax funds to WRITE YOUR REPRESENTATIVES AT SACRAMENTO against this proposal.

Let California Keep Faith!

Published by a Committee Representing the 3,530 Owners of the Carquinez and Antioch Bridges
